In May, 2008, during the Commencement for the Class of 2008, Mr. David Murray remarked, "Time is ticking," as he marched in with the rest of the teachers. This encounter put into perspective for me that our class, the Class of 2009, was now on the clock. For the next year, there would be no one at Malden Catholic higher than our class. We would be living what might be the single greatest year of our lives, senior year.

When we entered Malden Catholic as freshmen, we were not sure what to expect. We knew that Malden Catholic would demand a lot of us. Not knowing exactly what was ahead, we accepted the challenge. Whether we believe it or not, it was part of God's plan for us to be students at Malden Catholic. We were truly called to be there. Over the course of the next four years, we would come to know one another in a very personal way. We grew into the brotherhood that was spoken about so much and that was demonstrated so well by all the classes that preceded us. We were now truly a part of the Malden Catholic family and we formed friendships that will remain for the rest of our lives.

This brotherhood was deepened when many of us spent time together at MCLI, the Malden Catholic Leadership Institute, just weeks before the official start of our senior year. It gave us the opportunity to bond together over the course of a four day period. MCLI gave us the leadership skills that were necessary to be mentors in our community. MCLI provided us with the strength to say that we were not afraid to lead Malden Catholic throughout senior year. It provided us with the light we needed for our journey.

Through our time as freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors, we were exposed to a variety of different opportunities. Whether it was through football, baseball, hockey, drama, Lancers-in-Action, Student Council, or something else close to each of us, we all found something that was unique to us. We all found something that we were good at, something that allowed us to stand out from others.

We used our gifts and talents to better our Malden Catholic Community. We were the fire that kept Malden Catholic burning.

The lessons we have learned from one another and from our teachers will last a lifetime. Exposed to the rich tradition of the Xaverian Brothers, we grew in their five charisms of simplicity, humility, compassion, trust, and zeal. We were taught what it means to serve. At Malden Catholic we learned the lessons that shape our views, values, and lives. Malden Catholic taught us how to be men for others.

You graduated from Malden Catholic a few short months ago--or years ago, or decades ago. You do not know where the rest of your life will lead you. As you flip through this book, hopefully, it will be a real treat to be able to look at the pictures with the memories still fresh in your mind.

This book is a real gift because one day, the time will come when you share this book with others significant to you. We were the ones who made our senior year at Malden Catholic what it was. Without us, the Class of 2009, Malden Catholic High School would not be what it is today. Forever, we will be a part of Malden Catholic history. There are too many aspects of our high school career to possibly fit into this book. This book is a mere reminder of how great our time together was. Our yearbook is a treasure because it chronicles one of the greatest years of our lives.

It is very hard to put into words what our experience meant to us-- all the unique experiences we shared at Malden Catholic. I will keep a personal memory of each one of you. We have come to know each other. For the rest of my life, we will have had a common experience of brotherhood. Nothing was better than the sound of all of us praying or laughing together. The time spent at our own Commencement was the last time we were together. It was a day surely to be remembered: it was the day in which the Class of 2009 left its mark, its final imprint, on Malden Catholic High School.

Let us hold the memories we share together in the depth of our hearts.

May God Bless You on Your Journey,
Craig Cooley '09

As I walked through the front doors of MC for the first time, I felt confident and mature, ready for high school. I walked upstairs to my locker only to discover I had never bothered to memorize my combination. After a few lucky guesses, I grabbed my books and ran off to Spanish class, pushing every pull door and getting lost twice. I'll never forget that first class at MC. Never having taken a foreign language before, I stared blankly at the teacher as she conducted the entire class in Spanish. Dazed and confused, I continued to Room 201 to discover I had never learned anything in my eighth grade Algebra class.

Yet, with the support of the peers and teachers of the MC community, I was quick to adjust to the culture shock of a Catholic, all-boys high school. In no time at all, I was losing money to Mr. Gleason in the Dollar Game and building garages to an accuracy of 1/16th of an inch. I learned that 103 was the place to be, as I could participate in Shakespearean dance-offs and quote wars. I learned basic Japanese in Global Studies; how to say, "Currently, there is not a hurricane outside," in Spanish.

During sophomore year, I learned of the two most dreaded letters in the English language: AP. Of course, I am referring to none other than AP European History, where I learned the difference between an HEA, ODA, DBQ, GFF, and OVB. I also witnessed the Chiquita Banana Play of the Day in gym, sent emails to Argentina, and analyzed almost every Emily Dickinson poem in existence. Most importantly, I still have the Period G Physics Pun Counter-- totaling 384 puns by the end of the year-- sitting on my desk.

Junior year, I learned an important life skill: how to function on three hours of sleep a night. I'll never forget 80-page RTC's and writing about Bismarck on the AP US test. Likewise, becoming Star of the Day and eating animal crackers in AP English were unforgettable. I also learned the significance of the insignificant as well as the mortal danger of mixed numbers and decay factors. While some chose to travel to DC, I spent a week in San Francisco for Model Congress and a week in Oklahoma for robotics. Finally, the hijos of the Castillo family and Jaime's futile pursuit of Osito are permanently ingrained in my memory.

Never will I forget the words of wisdom offered by my teachers at MC. Mr. Murray: "Rip the quote;" Brother Hoey: "Respect is the hallmark of our community;" Mr. Bosco: "No me digas olé!;" Mr. lascone: "The wages of sin is death;" Brother Puccio: "Ka-Pow! You fail for the quarter;" Mr. Wright: "Washington endured copious amounts of radiation;" Mr. Gleason: "Why is a tangent a tangent? Because it is;" Señora Crotty: "La vida es dura."

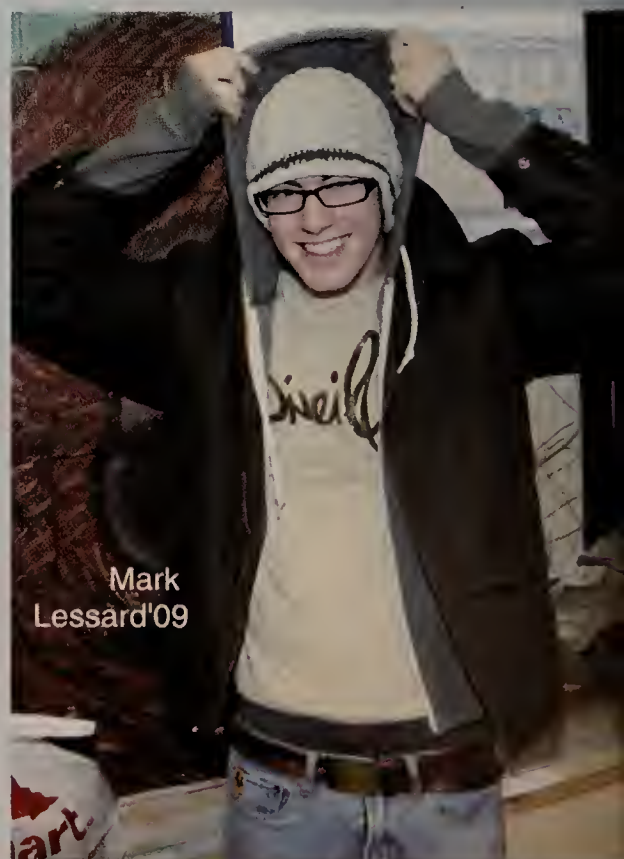

I can hardly believe that my career at MC has come to an end. These four years have felt more like a week. Still, reflecting on all of my memories of Malden Catholic, I have come to one simple conclusion: whoever said that high school is the best years of one's life could not have been more correct.

To The Class of 2009,

First, I congratulate you on your successful completion of high school and the awarding of an extremely valuable possession: a Malden Catholic education! In a time when many adolescents do not complete secondary school, you have affirmed the value of an education by completing the race! Great job!

You and your classmates are now poised to show freely to others your many talents and abilities. MC has afforded you countless opportunities to hone your skills, but, now, the ultimate decision on how and where to utilize them the best rests solely with you. For many of you, colleges and universities will be your new home for the next four or so years. However, you will always have a home at 99 Crystal Street, and I eagerly anticipate the days when you return to us as distinguished alumni!

Over the course of the past two years, I had a few opportunities to speak with you at the Junior Retreat and MCLI. I encouraged you to value yourself, other people, and your families as the top priorities in life. Furthermore, I emphatically reminded you, just like so many others probably have done at home and at MC, that the most valued material possessions are those sentimental items linked to a person. To emphasize this point at MCLI, I showed you the many family-made-t-shirts I have received from my wife and three children. These t-shirts are priceless! You too have priceless gifts from others that help to make each of you very unique and extremely special! Please do not ever forget that!

I hope each of you finds his chosen pursuit in life and makes the most out of every single day and opportunity. I leave you with a favorite quote of mine from Henry David Thoreau's classic Walden:
I learned this... by my experiment; that if one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams, and endeavors to live the life which he has imagined, he will meet with a success unexpected in common hours.

So, go achieve and every once in awhile, check back in with us at MC to let us share in your successes!

God Bless,
Mr. David Murray, English Department

Death By Arrangement Nov. 13, 14, 15

Welcome to Lancer's Drama '08-'09 season. We kick things off with Death By Arrangement, a murder mystery designed to take us through quite a few twists and turns. And although it may seem like a wayward course, the destination will not be what you expect. Laid out with Hitchcock-like scenario, the play harkens back to the old school mysteries. Set in 1940's England, the characters are gathered at the behest of a Detective Sergeant Benson to discuss the recent demise of one Evan MacKenzie. He feels that, even though Mr. MacKenzie's death was declared by doctors to be of natural causes, there is some foul play afoot and he is determined to get to the bottom of it. No one is above suspicion as each character has a motive to end Mr. MacKenzie's life. And so the scene is set to either draw out or, simply, trap the true killer.

2008-2009 Robotics Team

The robotics program integrates science, technology, engineering and math. Student teams are given several weeks to design, build and program mobile autonomous robots to accomplish a specified task.

Team members included Ryan Bryant'09, William Crow'12, Dylan Dale'10, Peter Demirdjian'12, Zachary Duca'10, Austin Gillis'12, Alex Iascone'12, Chris Ingalls'11, Robert Kendall'10, Thomas MacWilliam'09, Joseph McCormick'10, Andrew Napier'12, Michael Napier'10, Cameron Neville'12, Colin Neville'09, David Skerry'09 and Daniel Solomon'10. For the second consecutive year, the Lancer Robotics Team won the New England Regional Botball Tournament at the University of Massachusetts (Lowell) on March 28, 2009. As a result of this win, the team advanced to the International Finals in Washington D.C. in July. The MC team captured first place in each of the three rounds in Lowell. The Lancers also received a special Leadership Award. From July 1 to July 5, the team participated in the ninth annual Global Conference in Landsdowne, Virginia, where the team placed third internationally. The robotics competition included 61 middle school and high school teams from states ranging from Massachusetts to Hawaii, Florida to Michigan, as well as teams from Poland and Qatar. The team's moderator was Mr. Dennis Gleason of the Math Department.

2009 looked to be a rebuilding year because the top 5 players from 2008 graduated. However, the young Lancers came of age early and qualified for the State Tournament for the 3rd straight year. The Varsity Tennis Team finished the regular season with a 12 - 7 record, the most wins since 1977. MC won its opening round match 4-1 over Danvers, before falling to Division 1 finalist Burlington in the second round.

Leading the way for the Lancers were 3 juniors: Joe Guihan, at #1 singles, one of the most aggressive players in the Metro North area, was the team's MVP. Jamie Dickerson, at #2 singles, won a Coach's Award for "Best All-Around Player," and Cam Greenberg, at #3 singles, received a Coach's Award for "Most Improved Player."

Four freshmen and a junior playing his first year of tennis rounded out the starting lineup for MC. The freshman tandem of Matt Powers and Dennis Bell led the way at #1 Doubles with their quiet intensity. Freshman Joey Tumblin paired up with junior Dylan Dale or freshman Tom Duff at #2 Doubles. Other players who started matches were senior Ryan Bryant, junior Rahul Rana, and sophomores Anthony Stott & James Papia.

The JV Tennis Team also completed a successful season under the guidance of Assistant Coach Kevin Jones.

Faculty and Staff 2008-2009

We remember those members of the Malden Catholic staff who passed away this past year:

Brother Plunkett Doherty, CFX, is one of the Founders of the Crystal Street school. Brother Plunkett taught at Malden Catholic on Highland Avenue and moved to the new Crystal Street school when it opened in 1968. Brother was instrumental in establishing the "new Malden Catholic." For many years, he oversaw the plant while teaching mathematics. Brother Plunkett died on April 17, 2009.

Brother Frederick Kinsman, CFX, was the recipient of both the Plus Ultra Award and the Adult Athletic Service Award. He ran the plant at MC for many years. Brother Frederick died on December 11, 2008 in his sixty-ninth year as a Xaverian Brother.

Arriving at MC in 1973, Mr. Frank Halas served MC as coach, science teacher, moderator and department head for more than twenty-five years. His legacy is kept alive by the many MC graduates whom Mr. Halas influenced in a very positive way. Mr. Halas' date of death is January 23, 2009.

Mrs. Rita Brander served in the main office for twelve years beginning in 1973. Mrs. Brander passed away in July, 2009.

Ms. Ellen O'Connor served in the Development Office and, for the last two years, as Executive Assistant to the Headmaster. Ellen's battle against cancer and her always up-beat attitude served to inspire all who came into contact with her. Ellen O'Connor died on January 24, 2009.

Above: Former Headmaster Mr. Thomas Arria presents the Plus Ultra Award to Mr. Nick Dell'Arciprete On May 17, 2008. Nick had served for many years as Cafeteria manager and was always a positive presence at Malden Catholic. Nick passed away on January 11, 2009.

Assistant Principal

Brother Bede Benn, CFX, of the MC staff celebrated Seventy Years as a Xaverian Brother in February of 2009. Brother Bede had taught at Malden Catholic on Highland Avenue in the late 1950's and early 1960's. Brother returned to MC as a Math tutor in recent years.
